Background/Supporting Information

The City of Minneapolis owns approximately 15 acres of undeveloped land within the city limits of Edina and St. Louis Park at the intersection of 40th St W and France Ave South. Approximately 10 acres are in Edina with the remaining 5 acres in St. Louis Park.

Minneapolis purchased the property in 1933 for the construction of a future water reservoir and associated infrastructure. Over time, alternate investments were made to the overall Water Works storage and distribution systems and the reservoir was never constructed. The land has remained undeveloped to date.

City management has determined that this land is no longer needed for municipal operations. In December 2014, the property was designated as “excess land” and became eligible for sale. The Facility, Space & Asset Management (FSAM) Committee concurred that the land should be sold and not retained for other municipal needs.

For many years, the City of St. Louis Park has indicated interest in buying the land and negotiations between the two cities ensued. Minneapolis staff obtained independent appraisals that established a market value range based on the property being developed into residential housing (underlying zoning is residential).

According to St. Louis Park City Manager Tom Harmening, that city wishes to buy the land without any development restrictions being imposed by Minneapolis. The Minneapolis Southwest Pumping Station will remain on the property with a permanent easement for access and utilities. Staff is recommending a negotiated price of $579,813 for St. Louis Park’s share and St. Louis Park has submitted a purchase agreement for that amount. The price will be paid in a lump sum at the closing.

Staff requests that this Committee conduct a public hearing on the proposed land sale and recommends adoption of the accompanying Resolution. This Resolution requires an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the City Council to be effective.
